

Collections Submission Flow

This flow document represents a user starting from homepage, finding a collection via collection browse page, and submitting couple of his/her sketches to the collection. The considered user:

- is already registered and logged in
- has already 5+ sketches uploaded to his/her portfolio
- is not a member of any collections

create your collection

Collections are here!

Collections are themed groups you can create to bring many related sketches together! Use them to organize your portfolio: eg. Collect your "data visualization" pieces under one collection, your "newbie sketches" under one.

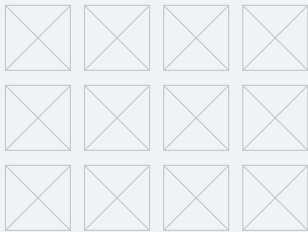

Have friends/students working with Processing?

Create a collection for your group and get everybody submit their sketches by simply using collection tags: eg. Your students can submit their sketches to your class collection simply by tagging their pieces "@Processing101". Then every member in the collection gets the news! Create your own collection and select your own submission tag!

Notes:

In the launch phase of "Collections", this page will be more about announcing the features, showing examples (good uses of collections) and getting people engaged in creating collections & submitting their pieces. Since there will not be a lot of content, this page will be less about browsing the existing collections.
